Home

The conference Scalars 2013 in Warsaw will be jointly organized by the Faculty of Physics, University of Warsaw and the Polish Physical Society. The meeting will take place near the main campus of the University of Warsaw at the Faculty of Modern Languages. The conference will start on the evening, September 12 (reception and registration) and finish on September 16 (late afternoon). More information is available at the web page of Scalars 2013 .

We invite you to partipate!